Warship Design Changes Needed Bomb Test Shows

U. S. Navy Confronted With Need Of Making Some Drastic Changes

TOLL OF ATOMIC BOMB GROWING

By CLARK LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BIKINI LAGOON, July 3.—The U. S. Navy confronted today with the necessity of making revolutionary changes in the design of warships as the result of information gained in the Bikini atom bomb test.

Bradley Dewey, a member of President Truman's evaluation commission, and Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal both forecast changes in warship design after viewing damage caused by the atomic explosion.

Changes Necessary
Dewey, who is president of the American Chemical Society, said that the atomic bomb which fell Monday on the target fleet clearly showed that changes in superstructure design now are necessary.

Dewey and his associates pointed out that most of the ships lying in the lagoon are "blind" because their radar equipment has been blasted away—and "deaf and dumb" because their exposed radio gear is gone.

Secretary Forrestal, at a news conference on Kwajalein before leaving on a round-the-world tour, declared that "changes in ship design of the future are inescapable" on the basis of preliminary lessons learned from the atomic detonation.

Fire Controls Ruined
Naval officers, too, admitted that fire control devices on many ships appear to have been ruined by exposure to the atom burst.

Army observers also added their testimony to the effectiveness of the bomb and pointed out that virtually all of the 73 target ships were, at least, partially immobilized by (Continued on Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Despite the current shortage of building materials, much remodeling work is in progress about the city, Pa. News observes.

City workmen have painted a white traffic line up the center of the North Jefferson street hill, from Grant to Wallace avenues.

"D. A.'s" on telephone calls were so numerous today that apparently a lot of people have left for a Fourth of July holiday away from home.

One year ago Monday was one of the hottest days of the summer, the mercury standing at 91 degrees, a review of last year's weather statistics reveal.

The storm failed to keep pace with the June record of 1945 at the Jameson Memorial hospital, when 101 babies were born for an all-time high monthly record. There were 87 babies born there last month, the records show, the same number as in May.

Pa. News was surprised Tuesday afternoon when he discovered that bus travelers on the Mahoningtown-Highland bus line have not found out that the two large buses operating on the line for the past two years have center doors for the exit of passengers. The bus approached the Mill and Washington street (Continued on Page Two)

City Is Preparing To Celebrate First After-War Fourth

New Castle is planning to have fun on the Fourth of July.

So says the grocer, the baker, the bathing suit maker—and the people who sell everything else from mosquito lotion to the cucumbers for the potato salad.

Heads of households have been taking the family car to the service station for a check-up on the funny noises in the motor. "Sure, she'll do five hundred miles," says the man. "She's got four wheels, ain't she?"

The lady of the house has been buying paper plates and cups, sun tan lotion and watermelons, among other things. Her son is threatening to picket the dry cleaners if they don't give him his suit in time for his Fourth of July date, and her daughter is ravaging the bathing suit counters trying to decide

NO MAIL DELIVERY HERE ON FOURTH

Postmaster William R. Hanna today announced that the usual holiday schedule will be followed here on July 4, with no city or rural delivery and no window service. Special delivery will be maintained all day and mails will be collected and dispatched on holiday schedule.

Fifty-Nine Ships Now Casualties Of A-Bomb Blast

ABOARD ADM. BLANDY'S FLAGSHIP AT BIKINI, July 3.—(INS)—A new box score showing a total of 59 ships blasted in varying degree by the Bikini atom bomb was announced today by operation crossroads officials. Ships ranged from "negligibly damaged" to "sunk".

The list showed:
Five sunk—The Japanese cruiser Sakuma, the destroyers Lamson and Anderson, the transports Gilliam and Carlisle.

Nine heavily damaged—The carrier Independence, the battleship Arkansas, the Japanese battleship Nagato, the submarine Skate, the cruisers Pensacola and Salt Lake City, the destroyers Slack and Thine and one LST.

Five other ships were listed as "moderately damaged", nine as "superficially damaged" and 31 as "negligibly damaged".

Merchants Keep Prices In Line

Only Slight Increases Noted In Rents And Meats As OPA Collapses

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—(INS)—Pittsburgh and western Pennsylvania merchants continued to keep prices in line through the free enterprise method with only slight increases in rents and meats quoted.

However, retail meat dealers said they did not expect more than a 10-cent a pound boost in choice meat cuts. The prices are beginning to find their own level, the Producers Livestock Cooperative Association reported.

Rev. Charles O. Rice, area rent director, said that rent increases and possible evictions have slowed down to a trickle. Monday the OPA received 600 calls. Yesterday only 100 were reported.

One-Pound Baby Lives Short Time

ALLENTOWN, July 3.—(INS)—A little drama of life and death ended today when a perfectly formed baby girl weighing less than one pound died in the Sacred Heart hospital in Allentown.

Doctors worked frantically when the child was born in a normal delivery to Mrs. Viola Deutob, 26. The baby, less than five inches in length, was rushed to an incubator.

At first it responded well to treatment and was fed through a medicine dropper. But then it failed and efforts to keep the infant alive in an oxygen tent were fruitless.

Doctors said Mrs. Deutob was recovering. She has not been informed of the baby's death.

Trieste Remains Bar To General Peace Conference

Foreign Ministers Unable To Agree On Administration Plan For Zone

MOLOTOV DIFFERS WITH BYRNES IDEAS

PARIS, July 3.—(INS)—Trieste, the bugbear of innumerable sessions of the council of foreign ministers, again today barred the way to summoning a general peace conference.

Secretary of State Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov agreed that the Adriatic port city must be internationalized, as suggested by French President and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

Far Apart On Problem
But they are far apart on the problem of administration for the proposed autonomous zone.

Byrnes and Bevin insist that its administrative statute be drawn up by the 21-nation peace conference, and that the area be placed under control of the United Nations Security Council.

Molotov demands that the new free state operate under supervision of the Big Four.

Three Boys Killed, Train Hits Bike

Twin Brothers And One Other Meet Death In Freak Accident Today

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., July 3.—(INS)—A freak accident in which a Pennsylvania railroad train side-swiped a bicycle at nearby Pine station today was responsible for the deaths of three small boys including twin brothers.

They were nine-year-old Jan Oechler, and Dale and Earl Rachau, seven, all of Pine Station.

Mrs. Harriet Piney, who witnessed the tragedy, told railroad officials that Oechler was riding the bicycle beside the tracks with one of the twins perched on the handle bars while the other youngster walked ahead.

Two Policemen Killed In Trieste

TRIESTE, July 3.—(INS)—Two civil police were killed today in continued rioting involving Yugoslav and Italian factions, bringing the death toll in recent fighting to four.

Sixteen Slav headquarters were demolished by rioters employing hand-grenades and bombs in street battles.

The food situation worsened under the continued general strike of the pro-Yugoslav anti-Fascist union. British and American troops were kept on the alert as police met increased difficulties in maintaining order.

Tension reached fever pitch following an attempt by a mob of Slavs to assault the offices of the Italian newspaper "La Voce Libera".

Senate Foreign Policy Experts Express Guarded Hopes For Peace Parley

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—Senate foreign policy experts hoped today that the Big Four agreement to internationalize Trieste spelled an early peace conference, but they exhibited at best a guarded optimism on the outlook.

Members of the Senate foreign relations committee generally stated they were "encouraged" to believe that the tentative Trieste agreement had broken the log jam delaying arrangements for a conference of all nations who fought on the Allied side in World War II.

Wait and See
But within and outside the committee, which has its chairman and one minority member sitting in on the Paris discussions, there was an attitude of "let's wait and see."

Check-Up Reveals Most Items Show Few Price Boosts

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—OPA spokesmen said today a check-up indicated that food and rent are your only budget items likely to spurt up in price immediately in the absence of price controls.

They declared that other items, so far as can be determined after two days of de-controlled prices, have shown only minor price increases or no price boosts at all.

One spokesman said that despite "tremendous inflationary pressures" in several clothing fields there has been no general increase in the price of clothing and none is anticipated. The official explained:

"There has been some upward movement in cotton but that was expected in any event. If the OPA bill went through cotton would have gone up two cents a yard in any case."

No Immediate Reaction
"Women's clothing has been rather high in price anyway, even with OPA. We don't expect any immediate reaction in increases. If the OPA question is not settled within a reasonable period of course we can't predict what may happen."

This spokesman said that shoes have not advanced in price. Neither has jewelry, according to the check-up. The spokesman added however: "Shoe factories, textile mills and (Continued on Page Two)"

Charge Is Filed Against Officer

County Detective Makes Involuntary Manslaughter Charge In Baughman Shooting

CITY POLICEMAN FRANK MACCHIA was charged with involuntary manslaughter Tuesday in the office of Alderman L. Claude Mantz. Bail was set at $1500 and a preliminary hearing scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, July 9, at 2 o'clock.

The charge arises out of the killing of Frank L. Baughman on South Mill street Wednesday morning, June 26, at about 5 a. m.

The information, filed by County Detective Charles D. Ross, follows the recommendation of the coroner's jury that Macchia be held for action by the grand jury in order to get it before the grand jury in the usual way, the charge has been brought.

Baughman was shot when he fled from arrest by Macchia. Macchia saw him on South Mill street with a quilt and suspected a theft. Ordered to halt for questioning, Baughman started to run and Macchia shot him with his revolver.

Chauffeur Says Hitler Is Dead

NUERNBERG, July 3.—(INS)—Hitler's former chauffeur told the Nuernberg war crimes court today that he saw the body of the fugitive outside the Berlin chancellery over a year ago and that he carried Eva Braun's body into the garden for cremation.

Erich Kempka said: "I saw a dead Hitler sticking out but not his face."

"I myself carried Eva Braun's body into the garden for burning. 'Hitler died April 30, 1945, between 2 p. m. and 3 p. m.'"

Examine Clock On Damaged Cruiser

BIKINI LAGOON, July 3.—(INS)—Newsman went aboard the wrecked cruiser Pensacola today and noticed that her wardrobe clock had stopped at 9:05 a. m.

Obviously the clock was a little fast as the atomic bomb burst at 9 a. m. Monday (2 p. m. PST Sunday).

Will Not Issue News Thursday

In accordance with the annual custom of The News for Observation of the Fourth of July, there will be no issue of this paper tomorrow, July 4, 1946.

New Compromise On Price Control Is Being Framed

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—The senate banking and currency committee was called into closed session today to consider a new one-year extension of price controls.

Committee members disclosed that the 20-member group will take up the bill vetoed by President Truman as "impossible" and proceeded to consider a proposed compromise being worked out by senate majority leader Barkley of Ky.

The senate leadership has decided to shelve a house-approved resolution providing for a 20-day revival of the OPA in favor of a more permanent bill reviving price controls until June 30, 1947.

May Present Bill Monday
Barkley expressed hope that the committee could complete work on the bill by Saturday and that it could be taken up in the senate Monday.

Following senate passage, the measure could go immediately to a conference committee, as senate leadership planned to use the house resolution as the preliminary resolution would be eliminated.

Drone Planes Pick Up Valuable Data From Atomic Blast

One Navy Helicopter Still Too Hot To Examine After 60 Hours

ROI ISLAND, July 3.—(INS)—Sixty hours after the Bikini atomic blast, at least one of the Navy's Helicopter drone planes was still so radio-logically "hot" nobody could approach it to remove cameras and other instruments.

This plane at Roi Island airfield was piloted by remote control through the center of the atomic cloud.

Other drones which penetrated the edge of the cloud lost their radioactivity 24 to 48 hours afterwards but until then they were so loaded with rays that there was no doubt that human pilots flying through the cloud would have been killed instantly or so badly infected they would have died within hours.

Cuba Shuts Off Sugar Shipping

Cuban Sugar Institute Sends Request, 'Cease Sending Sugar Boats'

HAVANA, July 3.—(INS)—The Cuban Sugar Stabilization Institute asked the U. S. Commodity Credit Corporation today to cease sending sugar-loading ships to Cuban ports, apparently as the direct result of OPA's end.

The decision was attributed to delay of the CCC in signing a contract for this year's sugar crop and also its reduction of the amount of hard candy which Cuba may export to the United States.

But the real cause for the drastic action is seen as the demise of the OPA and the Cuban expectation of inflated prices in the United States.

Cuba purchases a great proportion of her foodstuffs and raw materials in the United States and the American price question is an acute one in Havana.

Plan To Cooperate
The tentative price of 3.675 cents a pound agreed upon for the present sugar crop is based on the condition that Cuba may obtain her imports from the United States at prices prevailing while OPA was in force.

Jose Manuel Casanova, president of the Mill Owners Association, said Cuba is ready to cooperate with the United States and that means are being considered whereby sugar shipments may be resumed.

The institute promised that all ships now in Cuban ports as well as those enroute will be loaded with sugar.

Cascade Ready For Big Crowd On July Fourth

Cascade Park, the people's recreation and amusement center, is awaiting a Fourth of July crowd which, no doubt, will be one of the largest during the past five years.

Manager Chris Coulthard reported today that every concession in the big park, which is beautiful with flowers, foliage and newly painted buildings, will operate.

Mr. Coulthard also reported that the bathing pools, including the deep section used by expert divers, will be open, water having been pumped in the big pool yesterday.

In fact, the park manager said, "There will be all kinds of amusement for old and young, and dancing afternoon and evening."

There is plenty of parking space and with good weather the park management expects one of the biggest crowds in many years.

NEW COMPROMISE ON PRICE CONTROL IS BEING MADE

ula of Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, which the president singled out in his veto message as "the most damaging" in a series of amendments he said would increase the price of essential cost-of-living commodities.

Would Substitute 1940

The year 1940 would be substituted for 1941 as the base period stipulated in the Taft formula. The president declared that 1941 was an abnormal year during which prices were unusually high.

The Taft formula provided that the manufacturing industry would receive October 1941 prices plus their increased costs since then. Taft said he was agreeable to the change in the base year and also was willing to revise the formula so that the manufacturing industry would receive current costs plus 1940 profit-margins.

To prove acceptable to Mr. Truman, some changes would also have to be made in the amendments of Sen. Wherry (R) Neb., and Rep. Crawford (R) Mich., which the president criticized as providing for "generous wholesalers and retailers' markups" on top of the "Taft amendment price increases." Barkley commented that Wherry "is not adamant" on his amendment.

Seek Compromise

Barkley, asked whether a two-week lapse in the price control act seemed likely, replied:

"Well, not necessarily. We've gone over this pretty thoroughly before." Should the committee reach a compromise acceptable to the president, the chief obstacle to enactment of a new price control law would have been overcome.

There still remained the threat of another filibuster by Sen. O'Daniel (D) Tex., but senate leaders saw no signs that the Texan would receive any more assistance from his colleagues than he did last week when he spoke alone for more than 8 hours against the OPA extension bill. Without aid, any filibuster was certain to be short-lived.

triction in Trieste for years to come. This may be just a postponement. I hope I'm wrong."

Sen. Johnson (D) Cal., said he regarded the French proposal which Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov accepted as "entirely ridiculous". But he added:

In Russia's Favor

"I think Russia got France to make it because of the way Molotov snapped it up. A 10-year internationalization of Trieste is to Russia's favor, because in that time she'll have it."

Sen. Wiley (D) Wis., a foreign relations member, said he hoped the Trieste agreement was "more than an omen of speedy progress for the future in settling the problems of Europe." He added:

"It may be that Russia is comprehending a little more of our viewpoints and we are seeing a little more of her approach to problems."

Sen. Ball (R) Minn., an early proponent of world collaboration, commented that the "big question is who will control the railroad into Trieste." Ball said he'd like to know whether "the communists will be able to chop off access from Austria."

The tentative plan calls for a 10-year control of Trieste as an international zone. Paris reports showed the Big Four foreign ministers still at odds over methods of administering the port, with Secretary of State Byrnes opposing a Soviet suggestion for Big Four administration because the veto power would lead to "frustration."

the bomb burst. The army observers said that a small number of standard planes carrying standard bombs could easily have finished off the guinea pig fleet in the wake of the atom attack.

In an article written exclusively today for International News Service, Brig. Gen. Roger Ramsey, head of army air units in the test, pointed out that divergent views were held in regard to the success of the experiment but added:

Vital Success

"The plain and honest truth is that Bikini was not a failure. From our viewpoint—from every viewpoint—it was a very vital success."

Reports of damage to the target fleet mounted as official observers continued their investigation.

Operation crossroads officials now set the total number of ships which felt the effects of the atom bomb at 59 and added three more vessels to the "heavily damaged" category.

The latest official recapitulation listed five ships sunk and nine heavily damaged by the atomic blast. Five other ships were described as "moderately damaged," nine as "superficially damaged," and 31 as "negligibly damaged."

Some 48 hours after the burst, officials said that six target vessels were still radiologically "hot" and could not be boarded. The largest itself, however, was declared sufficiently free of radioactivity to permit personnel to go swimming except in the area of "hot" ships, which flew red flags indicating they were unsafe.

No News Of Demands

There was no specific disclosure of union demands. In Portland, Frank Conner, secretary of the union, said it was seeking only a slight increase in pay. Other demands concerned working conditions, vacation schedules and shift changes.

Joseph W. Ramsey, grand lodge representative of the union, said direct negotiations with the company had been broken off several weeks ago and the dispute was turned over to the railway mediation board, which has jurisdiction.

He said:

"Last May 27 we notified the company and the board that unless an agreement was reached before June 27, a strike was likely to occur at any time."

Strike officials were confident that several hundred unionized pilots would respect picket lines.

The lines operate to the west from New York through Detroit, Milwaukee and Minneapolis. It was estimated 25 to 30 planes, among them 44-passenger Douglas DC-4s, would be grounded.

Pa. News notes as was the case last summer, that the city drinking fountains are being used as garbage receptacles by thoughtless and careless citizens. Various mountains of the city carried the following articles Tuesday afternoon: Wads of chewing gum, apple cores, balls of paper, cigarettes and peanut shells. Perhaps a closer tab by the city health department might catch some of the culprits and a nice fine might break up the practice.

After placing the plant in the cellar, she was quite surprised to find 31 buds on it. Eight blossoms are in bloom now, while the other 23 will come out later. This plant bloomed on Thanksgiving and Christmas of last year and also in March of this year.

TRISTE REMAINS BAR TO GENERAL PEACE CONFERENCE and informed sources predicted that so long as disagreement remains on over-all conference can be called.

Major Compromise

The same sources said it was in the nature of a major compromise for Byrnes to come around to approving the internationalization plan at all, since he has consistently supported Italy's claim to Trieste.

He and Bevin joined in opposing Molotov's suggestion that the governor of the new zone be appointed by Italy and Yugoslavia, or by the Big Four if the two rivals failed to agree.

They were adamant that the security council should choose the governor.

Bidault favored Molotov's suggestion for selection of a governor, but leaned toward the Anglo-American idea for United Nations control.

Diplomatic circles said the French compromise plan may provide the answer to the last remaining major stumbling-block to draft peace treaties for Axis satellite nations.

Challenges Right Of OPA To Probe Company Records

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—(INS)—Seven thousand studio union strikers were scheduled to return to work today at 10 major cinema studios following settlement of a two-day-old walkout that brought outbursts of violence at two studios yesterday.

The settlement came suddenly. Attorneys for the lumber company contended that the OPA did not have the right to compel the company to produce sales records.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

As we celebrate Independence Day this week, many may find cause for grumbling—even alarm—in the fact that a year has passed and we have found no solution for peace-time problems.

The needs and desires of 140 million people cause much pulling and hauling among our legislative bodies. Often it creates waste and argument that seems to have no end.

But under it all lies the one priceless thing—Liberty. The freedom of speech, to work and worship as we please, the God-given right of men to be men. While America keeps these things, all else will right itself in time.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Odds Are Against Improved O. P. A. Bill

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The odds against an improved OPA coming out of congress are at least ten to one. On the day before the vetoed the bill, President Truman was told by administration leaders on Capitol Hill that the case was hopeless and his only alternative was to sign the bill in the hope of preserving something out of the wreckage of price control.

They were as surprised as the president's own personal advisers at the veto decision. For Majority Leader Barkley and the others at the capitol it would have been an easy way out if the President had signed the bill with a message written more in sorrow than in anger.

Task Is Difficult
What makes their task difficult, perhaps even impossible, is that this test comes so close to the deadline for the campaign recess. If the showdown on OPA had come earlier in the session—even six weeks earlier—the odds would not have been so uneven.

But Barkley and Speaker Rayburn know how hard it will be to force quick action in the three weeks that remain. It gives obstructionists like Pappy O'Daniel a chance to use technicalities and delaying tactics in order to hold up even a temporary restoration of control.

A great many members of congress, some of whom would be ardent supporters of OPA, are away. Some are at the atomic bomb test. Others have gone to Manila for the inauguration of the new Philippine government. Still others are back home campaigning in the primaries. The work of congress is seriously hampered by this absenteeism.

Biggest Factor
The biggest factor in favor of a renewed OPA, somewhat stronger than the one provided in the vetoed bill, is the upsurge of public opinion that followed the president's action. Public opinion recognized the courage that action took. Telegrams are flooding into congress, demanding quick action.

But veteran Democrats put little faith in this outpouring. While it is a victory for the president, the victory is likely to be very temporary. Public memory is notoriously short.

What they fear is that families who are paying inflated prices next fall will not stop to reason where the blame lies. They will be more likely to hit out blindly at the party in power.

If very much time is allowed to go by before a temporary restoration is voted, the OPA organization will surely begin to disintegrate. Putting Humpty Dumpty together again will be an extremely difficult task. Already in the face of delays and uncertainties OPA has suffered serious erosion of valuable personnel.

Separate Rent Control?
Rep. Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, whose objection prevented quick action by the house on a temporary restoration, will try to put through a separate rent control provision. But if all other prices are allowed to soar, then such a provision will be meaningless. Landlords cannot go on indefinitely paying increased costs without asking increased rents. This single class of property owners cannot be expected to show the only self-restraint in the country.

From some cities come reports of rents boosted overnight and families faced with eviction notices. The new director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconstruction, John B. Steelman, received a telephone call from St. Louis telling of the owner of an apartment who sent eviction notices to all tenants on Sunday afternoon. But with the notices went a hint that if they were willing to "negotiate" perhaps they could stay on.

Explosive Potentialities
This has explosive potentialities. After the last war, rent riots occurred in many cities. The pressure for places to live was minor in 1919 compared to what it is today.

No matter what the veto may ultimately mean in President Truman's own political horoscope, the controversy has had a direct political effect on Senator Taft of Ohio. If the president did nothing else, he succeeded in linking Taft's name in the public mind with the abolition of price control and price increases.

That link is likely to remain in spite of the senator's speech of explanation. Even its author would have difficulty explaining the Taft amendment. It is incredibly complicated and involved.

In political arguments of this sort it is the simple tag that sticks. The complicated explanation rarely gets across. Taft's rivals for the prize of the Republican nomination in '48 can breathe a little more easily. How much the politics of price control will be remembered two years from now is another question.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)
Well the fourth atom bomb now is history and we can get back to reading about another movie strike.

At last reports the Nevada still was aloft but Warner Brothers was insisting slightly.

But Sunday should go down in history as an unforgettable day. The atom bomb fell in Bikini, the OPA fell in Washington and the Athletics fell on the Yankees and murdered them.

The fall of OPA had one startling result. The NY Produce Exchange immediately suspended trading in black pepper futures.

This indicates that the price crisis is nothing to be sneezed at.

You may ask. Why do people trade in black pepper futures and I will give you a straight answer. I don't know.

I have sent a telegram to the president reading: "Do you know what you did to black pepper futures?" I'm sure he doesn't but maybe he will think I do.

Hang on. We're beginning to spin.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Are women people?

It always thought so. But when I read some of the stories about women by women I wonder whether a lot of women don't think that their sex is a separate species from the human one.

A lot of women's clubs write to their congressmen or to the President, telling them that women should be appointed to the Supreme Court and to cabinet positions. Women should be president or vice president, there should be women in important public offices and why can't women be this or that?

Well, why can't they? My mother was a woman. My sister is a woman. Lots of people I know have daughters who are women. And, before I forget it, my wife is a woman.

So far I haven't seen anything yet that women can't do as well as men. I have seen some pretty good women truckdrivers, farmers and bricklayers.

Maybe one of the reasons men have been rather reluctant about women in public life and in business is because there is still something of the old "when knighthood was in flower" attitude in every man.

Although when you see men sitting in subway cars while 20 women loaded with packages stand up right in front of them, there isn't much of that knighthood in evidence.

Maybe there is just a bit of fear in men's attitude. Maybe they know what good mothers and wives and sisters and sweethearts women make and are afraid that they may be pretty dangerous competition.

Personally I would much rather be tried by a woman judge than by most male judges I know. Although if my judge were a woman I would put on my prettiest necktie, be sure that my suit is pressed, my hair combed neatly, my face shaved and my shoes shined. And then, when my case came up, I would make the judge believe that she was just about the most fascinating and irresistible creature I ever saw in my life.

Let us have more women in office and in business. I say. Maybe it will take some of the prosaic realism out of life and give us more romance, more color, more spice.

(And, in spite of all this, don't you ever think that women can't be pretty good sharpshooters and fencers when they want to be.)

Yes, woman can do as well as anything man can. Plus one thing no man has ever yet been able to be—a mother. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

And put the dismal cares away
That trouble men!"

The room, with blossoms bright
arrayed,
With laughter rang.
Graybeards forgot their years and played
And bravely sang.

So much of heart-depressing care
Each day attends,
It must be glorious to share
Such joy with friends! (Copyright, 1946, Edgar A. Guest)

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Tomorrow will be the 4th. Summer is going fast. It is the custom on the 4th to display the greatest flag on earth. The Stars and Stripes. Several requests have come in concerning the proper placement of the flag. According to the book of Etiquette of the Stars and Stripes the following rules should be followed for proper displaying of the flag.

The flag should be displayed whenever possible from a pole or staff. If this is not possible at your home or place of business then this rule should be used. The blue field should be to the left upper corner when you face the flag from the street. This applies to either displaying the flag with stripes horizontal or vertical.

When displayed over the middle of the street, the flag of the U. S. A. should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope, extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out from the building toward the pole, the union first.

The above should answer the questions that have been sent and called in. And for those who might have questioned the same without saying as much in words. May this 4th of July, our first truly peaceful one in many years, be a happy one for you. Don't think us corny in saying. If for no other reason than you like yourself, drive carefully, play carefully, so that you might on July 5th say "Didn't we have a wonderful time on the 4th?"

The World and the Mud Puddles

A TIMELY REMINDER

Tomorrow there is celebrated in this country the birth of the nation—the United States of America; the day when the Declaration of Independence was signed and it is a very proper time to republish Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

That address was given at a time when there was no assurance that the United States of America was going to survive the Civil War. And this address should be memorized by every young person in America. Here it is—

"Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

"Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are here on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this."

"But in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men living and dead who struggled here have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that the government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

METHODS OF CHILD ADOPTION

Some of the practices concerning adoption of children, though out of the United States are truly disgraceful. Looking forward to some measures for correction, the social agencies of New York City, for example, are attempting to get some state legislation. Yet the best laws won't be easy to enforce, since the violator of sound practice on placing of a child available for adoption, such as a doctor, relatives or friends.

There are far more homes eager to adopt a child than can possibly be supplied. I get many letters asking me where to find a baby for adoption and all I can answer is, "Apply at an authorized social agency."

Editorial Comment
On May 17, The New York Times commented editorially: "There is something reassuring about human nature in this ardent desire to have a child in the home. But the subject has its tawdry aspects. One is the 'black market' in babies, of which almost everyone has heard by now. Babies are bought and sold by brokers, the price running to $1,000, $2,000 and even more."

Several months ago I reported in this column what Maud Morlock of the U. S. Children's Bureau had just told of the flourishing baby market of many unwed mothers, signing away the rights to their babies even before they were born. Mrs. Morlock estimated that one in every 12 births in this country was illegitimate compared with one in every 25 in 1942, the rise being a product of wartime conditions. She estimated that less than half of all illegitimate infants adopted were placed by professional children's agencies.

To quote further from "The Times": "This is a shocking condition, for it means that even in cases where adoption becomes legal there was an exchange of a child with or without the passing of money, with no preliminary investigation of child or prospective home."

"The attempted secrecy that surrounds the arrival of an illegitimate child, the mother's frequent lack of money and other factors involve make this an extremely difficult subject to legislate on successfully."

The bill which will probably appear before the next N. Y. state legislature would "forbid any person, including mother or lawful guardian, from accepting money for placing a child in a foster home or helping to do so. Repeated violations would mean prison for such a broker. Any person receiving a child in contemplation of adoption would have to make a full report to the state within 14 days, when an enquiry would begin. Legal adoption would have to wait for 30 months."

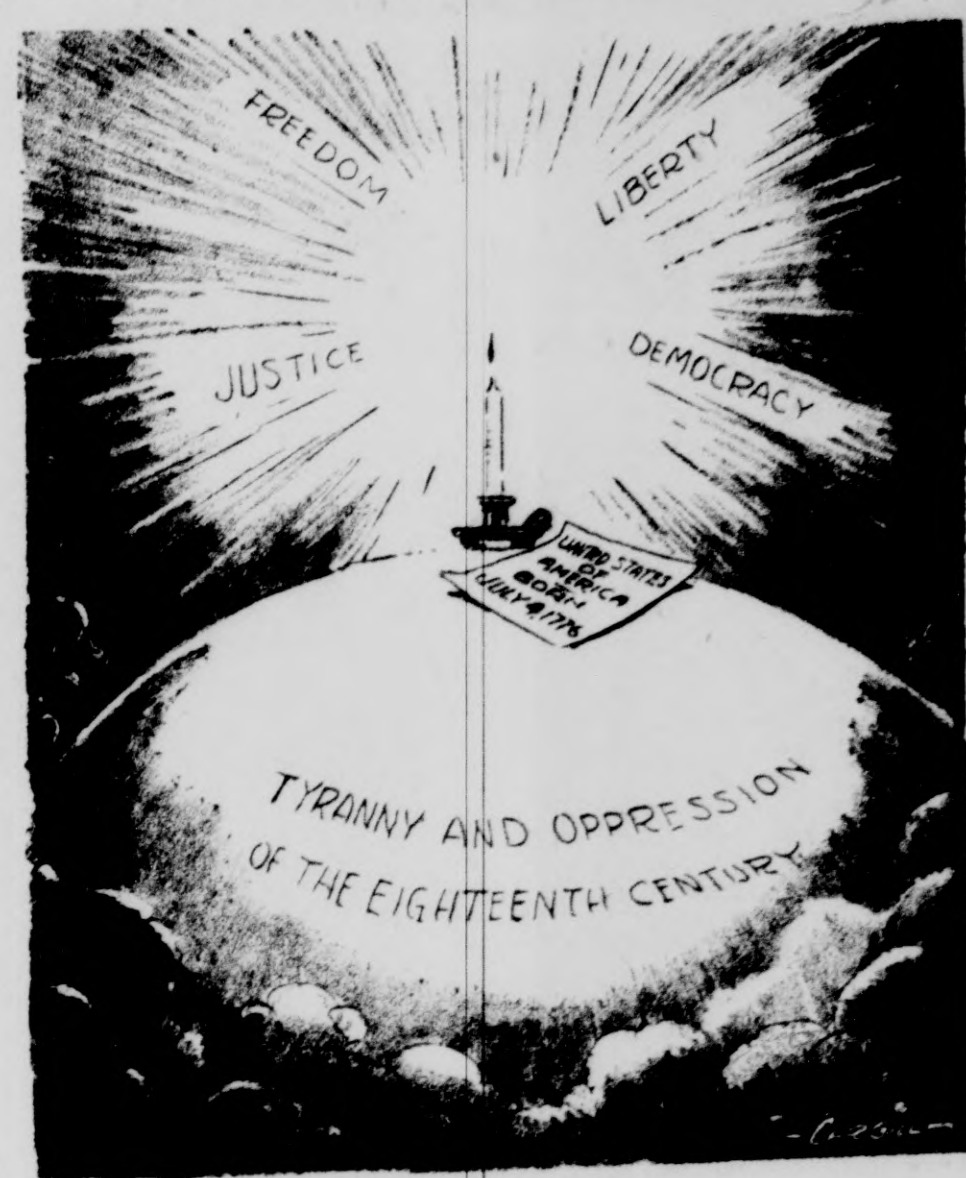

"We are not likely to solve this problem with legislation until people generally are better informed on reasons why a full-scale, professional scrutiny of both child and prospective home is essential before a wise adoption can be completed. Nor will we solve it until something like a uniform law for all states is established."

Adoptive parents may be tempted to try to make the child and then friends believe he is of their own flesh and blood, to be overindulgent of him, and to suppose when his behavior falls short of what they expect, it is a matter of his inheritance.

Wise adoptive parents candidly tell the child he is adopted as soon as he can understand other things they tell him. They aim to bring him up exactly as if he had been of their own flesh and blood.

Army-Navy Merger Seen Stymied For Summer
Why Truman Switched Vinson Ceremony Told
Senator Narrowly Escapes Jail In Campaign

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON, July 3.—President Truman faces another legislative defeat in his plan for merging the armed forces under a single cabinet head.

This present bill is now before senate naval affairs committee and probably will remain bottled up there for the summer.

All might have been well if the measure had merely gone before the senate military affairs committee, which endorsed it. However, as a matter of courtesy, the military affairs group turned the legislation over to the naval committee for hearings.

The naval affairs committee sits in the shadow of the admirals who are violently opposed to one department of national defense. Sen. Ellender, D. La., says he has enough votes to block action on the merger in the present session of congress.

Vinson Ceremony Causes Comment
President Truman's breach of precedent in having Fred M. Vinson sworn in as chief justice of the United States in elaborate White House ceremonies has caused considerable comment in court circles.

Ordinarily, the oath is administered at the court in more solemn ceremonies, usually by the senior justice in this case Hugo Black.

In Vinson's case, however, the court was out of session and he could hardly be sworn in there until fall. With John Snyder as secretary of the treasury, Vinson would have been on vacation without pay.

As it is, he will be on vacation, but with a salary of $20,000 a year as against the $15,000 paid a cabinet member. The court itself does not meet again until October.

Chester Bowles still wants rationing resumed.
Talk around Washington is that the wartime OPA boss lacks support from other government agencies.

Bowles it is rumored would like to see meats, butter, fats and oils on the ration lists again and perhaps bread.

Senator, Almost Jailed
Sen. Glenn Taylor narrowly escaped going to jail in his native Idaho while campaigning there in the recent election.

Taylor relates that the law got after him for using a loud-speaker attached to his automobile without a permit.

The senator was unable to locate councilman so and so or the mayor to obtain the permit and served justice on the local police chief that he intended to deliver the address the following evening whether or no.

Unfortunately, my free-speech test never came off. Taylor said "My car sprang a radiator leak and I had to cancel the talk."

Some administration officials have been sounding out labor on the idea of a "no-strike" pledge for the next year to enable the country to obtain uninterrupted production needed to combat inflation.

Washington—Oliver Stanley, Conservative leader, blasts British policy in Palestine. In a few weeks, nothing can avert war in Palestine.

WASHINGTON—Wilson W. Wyatt, housing administrator, "The Veterans' Housing Program in its present form will be doomed unless sensible workable price controls are put back into effect and quickly. This is of the greatest urgency."

CLEVELAND—Emil Schmitt, president of the New York Stock Exchange remarks on the death of price controls: "There will be few takers who will try to make the most of today's situation of no controls, but the American business man is discreet. He is honest. The competitive situation I think will pretty well take care of the situation."

Can you tell sunstroke from heat exhaustion?
Pointing out that both are dangerous summer maladies, the National Safety Council says that with heat exhaustion the patient's skin is cold and clammy, while sunstroke results in a hot, dry skin.

Here is a general rule for treatment of these conditions: If the patient is cold, make him warm; if he is hot, make him cool.

At Protected Crossings
The council revealed that more than one-third of the accidents occurred at crossings which were protected by gates, lights, bells or watchmen, and nearly two-thirds involved trains moving at less than 30 miles per hour, or standing still. The great majority, 87 per cent, of daytime grade crossing accidents were classified as "locomotive hit cars," while 55 per cent of the night mishaps were in this category. About one-third of the night accidents were "car hits other part of train."

Stop, look and live! That's the advice given summer motorists by the National Safety Council as it reported a 4 per cent increase in grade crossing fatalities during 1945. Last year, 2,074 persons lost their lives in such accidents, while 4,275 were injured.

Contrary to general belief, there were more daylight accidents than at night, with 56 per cent occurring before darkness set in. Only 285 of the fatalities were pedestrians and 50 other people such as bicyclists; the remainder involved motor vehicles.

The council revealed that more than one-third of the accidents occurred at crossings which were protected by gates, lights, bells or watchmen, and nearly two-thirds

A Blow For Liberty

One hundred and seventy years ago the gallant men who founded this nation struck one of the greatest blows in history for man's freedom and political liberty. With the Declaration of Independence they threw off the shackles of tyranny and pledged with "our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor" to see the great struggle through.

They did see it through, they kept their spirits high through dark and trying days and out of it came the nation that was to become the greatest in all the world—the richest, the most powerful and the most humanitarian.

The love of freedom those brave men left as their heritage has seen this nation go through two great wars, each of them with the same goal—to assure other men the same rights to freedom and liberty. It is indeed a moving thing to think about that a nation such as this has been willing to send its sons into battle with no thought of territorial conquest or gain of any kind.

It is something to be proud of that this nation should be the first to set the world an example in colonial affairs. In taking a backward native people like the Filipinos, working with them, helping them and then giving them their full freedom the moment they were ready for it. All over the globe, men know what happened in the Philippines.

And it traces back all through the years to that moment in history 170 years ago when brave men struck their great blow for liberty. It was a blow that has resounded through the years, in every land and in every clime. Over the oceans in far-off countries, it has given men courage and hope. The very word "republic" has come to mean the highest form of government, the one which all men who aspire to liberty look to as their eventual government.

The men who signed the Declaration of Independence little dreamed back in 1776 what they were bequeathing to the world.

Envoys Of Peace

Americans are getting ready for extensive foreign travel both in the interests of business and for pleasure.

According to the Department of Commerce within a few years one billion American dollars will be spent in this fashion annually, and ten years from now, "if a high level of economic activity is maintained," tourist expenditures may reach half again as much.

It seems incredible, but the department estimates that civilian travelers spent three hundred million dollars in foreign countries in 1945, and sixty-five million dollars more in international air and steamship fares. Three-quarters of this money was spent in Canada and Mexico, with most of the remainder in South American and Caribbean countries, and a little in Europe.

Heretofore the peak in foreign travel was in 1929, when almost seven hundred millions were spent.

The day should come when comparable streams of voyagers move in opposite directions from other countries to the United States. Such international visiting, whether for vacation-time enjoyment or for the purpose of trade, will promote world understanding and friendliness.

They Find Doors Closed

Nobody needs to tell individual veterans that it is hard to get into college but it comes as a surprise to learn from Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine that as many as 300,000 of them "will be turned away this fall." This dismal prospect, which all hope will not be realized, is no doubt a matter of as much concern to the colleges as it is to the returning soldiers.

What can be done about the situation? Unfortunately, the possibilities are limited. The institutions of learning have only so many dormitories and classrooms and so much equipment. They were unable to add to their facilities during the war and they do not now enjoy any special priorities in the matter of new construction. It is not fair to the colleges and even less fair to students already enrolled to insist that more men be admitted than can be adequately housed and trained.

The colleges are aware of the problem and eager to find the solution. Many of them have erected huts and other temporary units on their campuses and are using classrooms which are no longer suited to that purpose.

Sympathy for the disappointed veterans is as widespread as it is genuine. Unfortunately, that does not do them any good. It is infinitely less than they deserve.

Lobby For America

What this country needs is more individuals who feel that adherence to principle is more important than personal political prestige. Cynical realism and political expediency have brought the United States to the brink of collapse. As one American housewife asks in desperate earnestness, "Where are the lobbyists for America, for justice and for truth?" Millions ask this same question. They are frightened by the atmosphere of horse-trading and jockeying for power so evident in high government circles at a time when the world is crying for statesmanship as well as food.

It is like a breath of clean mountain air when a responsible person in public or private life speaks out unequivocally for what he believes to be right, and in accordance with basic principles of the American idea of government, even though it may not be the popular thing to say at the moment. Such people are rare today. That is why the country is slowly drifting toward socialism and bankruptcy.

There is no one lobbying effectively for solvent government; for an end to the strangling clutch of government bureaus on the activities of every private citizen. It is not popular to lobby for these things because too many people have the idea that in bureaucracy and organized compulsion lie sanctuary.

Fear of the hazards of the postwar world has led to confused restrictions and suppression of natural forces which can only result in an explosion of some kind. When it comes those millions who believe in this country and its form of government will have to "lobby for America" as they never lobbied before.

Hints On Etiquette

A man usually waits to be greeted by the lady he meets on the street. If she is a little slow to recognize him, however, it is quite all right for him to be the first with the greeting.

The State Police Say:—

If you have to decide between maintaining your schedule and driving at a safe speed choose the safe speed. Never exceed legal speed limits. Schedules are important, but safety is the first consideration. It is easier to explain a few minutes delay than an accident.

Faithful Mother Dies As Son Goes For Eye Operation

Woman Dies Of Cancer Day Before She Was To See Son Off To New York Hospital

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—(INS)—Jack Wisnowski, 16, of Verona, will fly to New York next Tuesday for a difficult eye operation, but his mother, who patiently encouraged him through two sightless years, won't be there to wish him well.

Jack discovered his mother crumpled beside her ironing board yesterday—dead of cancer which she never knew she had.

Mrs. Marie Wisnowski, 42, died as she was ironing her son's clothes for his trip to recover the sight of his right eye. A year ago, he successfully had a cornea transplanted to his left eye in a similar operation.

However, forbidden tears shed in his sorrow may delay his scheduled operation for eight months. Medical men had warned him that tears might affect the time for transplanting a cornea to his sightless eye.

Jack cried violently, but it was too hard to hold back tears for his beloved and devoted mother.

After his first operation, the first sight Jack wanted to see—and did see—was "his mother's face."

Mrs. Wisnowski's selfless devotion to her son and to her husband, who was helpless with eye cataracts, caused her to unknowingly sacrifice her own life, doctors said.

The courageous woman had been Jack's "eyes" since he was twelve when he developed conical cornea and hydrops of both eyes. The disease is not often successfully treated.

Friendly neighbors, physicians and local industrialists came to Jack's aid three years ago. They raised funds for the delicate eye operation at New York Eye Clinic at Columbia Presbyterian hospital.

Taxes Will Have To Follow Prices Declares Snyder

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder said today that taxes will have to follow prices upward if the OPA is not revived.

Snyder made this statement at a news conference in explaining the financial condition of the government at the end of the fiscal year June 30.

Snyder said higher taxes are the only "brake on inflation."

He said corporation taxes as well as individual taxes would have to be subject to the increase in prices.

However, Snyder declared that there will be no new tax bill "during the present calendar year."

Modified Civilian Control Of Atomic Energy Favored

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—The House Military Affairs committee on Tuesday approved legislation for modified control of atomic energy.

The committee voted 24 to 3 to report out a similar version of the Senate-passed McMahon atomic energy bill.

The measure will now be placed on the House calendar and scheduled for action upon completion of debate on the British loan.

The bill reported out by the House military group, however, differs in some respects from the Senate bill.

The House version would make mandatory the appointment of one military representative to the five-man atomic control commission, in contrast to the Senate provision for an all-civilian control board.

In addition, the House bill would make permissible presidential appointment of a second military representative to the control commission.

Former Premier Denounces Paris Action On Italy

ROME, July 3.—(INS)—Former Premier Alcide De Gasperi blasted action taken on Italy by Big Four "visitors" in Paris today, and announced his intention of abandoning his foreign affairs portfolio.

De Gasperi told newsmen that he will appeal decisions made by the council of foreign ministers all the way to the United Nations.

The leader of the dominant Christian Democratic party charged that the Big Four had made him the specific promise that Italy's zone in Venezia Giulia would not be touched.

He appeared deeply hurt that the ministers agreed yesterday to modify that zone in Yugoslavia's favor, particularly since a report by an allied committee of experts unanimously favored Italy after an exhaustive investigation.

Tax Collection Heavy, Hanlon Says

City Treasurer Bernard N. Hanlon today reported that the collection of taxes, prior to July 1, was "quite heavy" although he has not yet been able, for lack of time, to have exact amount totaled. Five per cent penalty was imposed on all unpaid city taxes for 1946, effective July 1.

Demands Atomic Energy Agreement In Treaty Form

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—Sen. Wiley (R) Wis. introduced a resolution Tuesday to put the senate on record as regarding any international agreement on atomic energy invalid unless ratified in treaty form by the senate.

Wiley called for immediate passage of his resolution before congress adjourns for the summer "to guard against the terrible possibility that while congress is not in session the president and his representatives enter into an agreement on atomic energy."

The senator told his colleagues "it is outrageous to assume" that the president or the U. S. atomic representative, Bernard Baruch, should have power to "abdicate the sovereignty" of the United States by shifting atomic energy control to a world authority.

He warned against secret agreements and "relying exclusively against the pious promises of Russia."

Wiley charged that Russia "has often evidenced such little regard for the integrity of an agreement and is so obviously actively allied with the force of world revolution as to render her pledges gravely suspect."

His resolution declares it the sense of the senate that no international agreement on atomic energy shall be binding upon the United States unless it is ratified by a two-thirds vote of the senate as a formal treaty.

Heirens Is Held Without Bond In Chicago Case

Writ Of Habeas Corpus In Behalf Of The Youth Denied
By Court

CHICAGO, July 3.—(INS)—William Heirens, 17, distraught college-boy suspect in the kidnap-murder of six-year-old Suzanne Degnan, was remanded to jail without bond Tuesday afternoon as Judge Harold Ward denied a writ of habeas corpus filed on behalf of the youth.

As he was being taken before the court, Heirens, a University of Chicago student, charged that police had made him make a confession to the crime. But he insisted that "I didn't do it."

While Heirens was appearing before Judge Ward, the youth's father, George Heirens, a strapping 6-foot, 3-inch tall man weighing more than 250 pounds, pushed his way into the crowded courtroom. The elder Heirens was openly crying.

Judge Ward denied the habeas corpus writ after Assistant State's Attorney James Cunningham declared that 15 charges of burglary and four charges of assault would be filed against the youth as soon as formal papers can be drawn.

John Coghlan, attorney for Heirens, made no objections after he was assured he could confer with the youth. Coghlan told Heirens: "From here on out don't answer any questions at all. No matter what they ask tell them to go to hell."

Heirens according to police has told conflicting, confusing stories.

Chief of Detectives Walter Storms also declared that Heirens had made a confession but repudiated it. Heirens himself, interviewed by reporters as he was taken to court to face a series of burglary and assault charges, also stated: "It looks bad for me."

Go Swimming But Be Careful Warns Water Safety Group

So you're going swimming Thursday?

Have a good time, says the local Water Safety committee of the Lawrence county Red Cross, but remember that this big day of picnics and recreation is also a day on which tragic drowning records are set.

When you pick your place to swim, you have a lot to consider, says the Water Safety people. You want water that's clean (you can't tell just by looking at it, either), you want water that is free from undertows and swift currents; you want a river bottom that is familiar to someone in the group.

A Swimmer In The Crowd
If you swim in an unsupervised place, which isn't such a good idea, there should always be at least one excellent swimmer in the crowd—preferably someone who has passed the senior lifesaving test.

If you dive, you should wear a cap to protect your ears. And you should know the place where you are diving—to protect your skull. You should pay a little more attention to some of the old rules.

about not swimming too soon after eating, especially in cold water. There's a very logical reason for this—the exercise and the cold draw the blood away from the stomach and intestines where it is needed for digestion, and violent cramps can result.

No Showing Off
Don't swim until completely exhausted, and don't swim out beyond your depth. And if anyone in the crowd starts holding anyone else under water, throw him out of the pool. Showing off has been the cause of more than one death in the water.

With three-fourths of all vacations being spent near water—swimming, fishing, or boat trips anywhere from the Neshannock river to Lake Erie on the ocean—the Water Safety committee is trying to make people more and more conscious of the need to be able to take care of oneself in the water. Under the chairmanship of Arthur Alexander, the group is continuing its sponsorship of swimming classes and lifesaving classes, where guards for local swimming places may be trained.

Few Vacancies In Schools Of County

Only Half-Dozen Rural Schools Are In Need Of Teachers, County Superintendent Finds

There are only a half-dozen vacancies in the rural schools of the county, County Superintendent John C. Syling states, all of these being in the elementary schools.

Return of many teachers from the armed forces who taught in the high schools find them all well-staffed, but there are still some vacancies in the teaching staffs for the elementary schools, mostly in the one-room buildings.

During the war, it was necessary to fill many vacancies with teachers who held only temporary certificates, and if things come to the worst, some of these vacancies may be filled in this manner.

F.B.I. Probing Valenti's Past

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—(INS)—The FBI today probed into the past of dapper 35-year-old Frank Valenti, restaurant owner and alleged "big shot" racketeer, who is being held as an accessory to a double gangland murder in Pittsburgh.

U. S. Attorney George Marshall said the FBI agents charged that Valenti violated the draft laws during the war. They claimed Valenti obtained deferment by accepting an essential war job and hired a "proxy" to work it while he continued his lucrative numbers racket.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Arthur C. Leslie questioned the suspect for two hours. Leslie said he did not ask Valenti about the murder of Frank Evans or Freddie Garrow, but questioned him about the alleged charges that police gave him the "third degree."

New Wilmington High Given Old College Field

NEW WILMINGTON, July 3.—According to Westminster college officials, the old Westminster athletic field has been given to the school district.

The field, located above the Presbyterian church, hasn't been used for years by the blue and white squads for regular games.

Acid Kills Fish In Allegheny River

WARREN, Pa., July 3.—Thousands of dead fish floated down stream on the Allegheny river in what riverbank dwellers called the greatest mass destruction of fish ever known in this section.

Fish Warden R. T. Bailey said the fish were killed by river pollution resulting from the washing out by a flash flood of an acid line near Port Allegheny, which released acid into the water.

Many large sized fish including wall-eyed pike, bass and muskies were among the dead fish.

Enrollments High At Westminster

NEW WILMINGTON, July 3.—Westminster officials announce that about 375 students are attending summer school.

It is expected that the college will have between 900 and 1,000 students enrolled in September, the largest number in the history of the college.

Enrollment for the fall is closed and the college is being forced to turn down many fine prospects because of the lack of housing facilities.

STILL MAINTAIN STATE ANTI-TOXIN STATION IN CITY

Since the banning of fireworks in the city more than a decade ago, business has been slow at the anti-toxin station for the preventative treatment of lockjaw.

The station, still in operation in the McKinley & Prantz drugstore, remains open, however, but does not anticipate any rush of cases July 4. During the years when it was legal to discharge firecrackers in the city many children were treated at the station due to powder burns.

At the present time, except for an occasional nail wound, abrasion from ashes or similar mishaps, traffic to the station has been light.

There were no cases treated in the city during 1945 or so far in 1946, pharmacists stated.

SAVED FROM DEPORTATION

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—(INS)—An 86-year old law today saved Luigi Porino, 40, of Pittsburgh from being deported to Italy, at least temporarily.

Porino was slated for deportation because he was convicted of second degree murder in the death of his wife in 1932. He served eight years of an eight to 16-year sentence. The remainder of his sentence was commuted.

His attorney, Premo J. Columbus, dug up an act of 1860 that pardons anyone who served his full sentence. The act of 1860 was repealed in 1939, but Columbus argued that should have no effect on a crime committed before that date.

The commanding general will determine the grade in which the applicant is authorized to enlist.

Heavy Hay Crop Being Harvested In Lawrence Co.

With a heavy hay crop coming on this year many farmers are faced with the problem of space in their mows and the necessary help to put up the hay.

W. S. Gleghorn of North Beaver township, who has 36 acres of hay to put up this year and only two mows to put it in, has supplied the facts on how to put more hay in a barn than it will hold.

Baling is his secret. This farmer said that it is hard to get help to put up loose hay. It costs more to bale hay, but it is cheaper in the long run. Less help is needed and less time.

In five and a half hours yesterday, Gleghorn with two other men put up 10½ acres or 925 bales of hay. To put up that much loose hay would have taken up more space in the barn and much more time.

Seek To Force Restoration Of Veteran To Job

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—(INS)—The Selective Service veterans personnel division today threatened to go into federal court to force the AFL electrician's union to permit reinstatement of a 29-year-old Marine hero of Iwo Jima by a Bethel township contractor before July 9.

Ross L. Lettler, of Selective Service, told Emil Weiner, the contractor that the case will be turned over to the federal district attorney for "appropriate action" unless Russell Hamilton is rehired within a week.

The fight over reinstatement began three months ago when Hamilton returned from the war, and sought his old job back as an apprentice electrician. The contractor agreed to rehire Hamilton, but his union contract prohibited such action because the ex-Marine was not a union member.

Start Work On Housing Units At Westminster

NEW WILMINGTON, July 3.—Work has started on the housing units to be constructed by the federal government for use by veterans. The units are expected to be completed by Sept. 1, according to Ross Ellis, business manager.

Grading has begun on Maple street below the Science hall. Other sites to be used are on Orchard and New Castle streets. There will be facilities for 48 dormitory students and 28 families.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority stopped the flights when the walk-out of 1,500 mechanics started at 6 a. m. this morning.

Ten flights a day are scheduled to and from Detroit.

Sometimes it looks like a Christmas tree

When you lift your telephone receiver to make a call, a little light glows on the switchboard at the central office.

Sometimes so many lights come on at once that the board looks like a Christmas tree!

People are using the telephone more than ever. And, in order to provide service sooner to the many people who are waiting for telephones, we're stretching our switchboard facilities.

Sometimes we just can't handle the load without delays.

So, if the operator doesn't answer immediately when you lift the receiver, we hope you'll understand. This situation is temporary. New facilities are on order, to make your telephone service better than ever. Thanks for cooperating!

"SCOTLAND YARD INVESTIGATOR"Blind Pastor Returns To New Home At Rose Point

On a one-acre plot near Rose Point stands the newly completed "house that faith built." It is the new home of Rev. Robert A. Blair, blind, former pastor of the Rose Point Reformed Presbyterian church. Rev. Blair, whose life for the past 24 years has been "dogged" by tragedies great enough to shatter any ordinary mortal, yet with the patience of Job, he carried on.

In 1922 he left Rose Point for New Kensington. There his wife died and he buried her in the little churchyard at his former pastorate.

After spending three years in China as field secretary of the Foreign Mission Board early in his life, Rev. Blair returned with an eye infection that left him blind. With "Charlotte," his seeing-eye dog, he continued to preach.

With only a few years separating their deaths, he lost his second son, and then his oldest son. Then a year ago the War Department notified him his youngest son had been killed off Okinawa. Still Rev. Blair remained steadfast in his faith and when his work in New Kensington was done, he returned to that acre of ground just outside of Rose Point where he had long planned a home and garden.

And now with his house nearly finished and with a garden lined with wires to which special tools for the blind are attached, Mr. Blair says: "I've always loved the corner of this field. It's beautiful, the trees and the valley. I can still see it, even without looking."

Drive Extended Another Week To Enable Workers To Complete Worthy Relief

At the open dinner-meeting of the Wolves club, held Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the Castleton, Treasurer A. N. Carbon, of the clothing drive for Italy campaign, gave the present reports of the drive.

To date the total cash receipts stands at $2719. The wolves' campaign goal is $5000. A sum of $1629 was received from the Wolves members. Last Sunday, a special collection was taken at the St. Vitus church, receipts being $165.00. The Wolves club gratefully thank Father Nicholas DeMita and his parish, for helping in this drive.

Teams were divided in the Wolves club, and they are working diligently in this campaign, trying to "put it over the top." The team of Anthony Conti and Mike Gennaula, show a report of $483.00. The team of Frank Bordonaro and Ted Castelle, show a report of $209.00. Nick Casalandra and James Lombardo, show $201.00. and Joseph Bordonaro and William DeCarbo, $86.00. According to the men, the work is not yet completed, but probably will be so in another week.

As to the actual clothing received, approximately two tons have been collected. The clothing has been discarded for one reason or another, but is still in good condition to send to the needy people in Italy.

Angelo Frediani, campaign chairman, made an appeal to the members to work hard in this last week of the drive, and "get behind the drive and make it go over the top." He urged members to donate clothing that is not being used in their own home, providing it is still wearable. The appeal also applies to all persons. Those who do not have any way of disposing the clothing in the various depots, are asked to call the following numbers, and the clothing will be gathered by the drive workers. Call: 2132, 9229, 3821 or 4768.

Joseph Bordonaro presided at the meeting. William DeCarbo, program chairman, announced that plans for the Wolves annual picnic is underway.

July 16, is the next meeting.

Speaks To Group

David Gatrall, director of boys work at the central branch of the Y. M. C. A., today addressed members of the Shenango street "Y" concerning their proposed "vacation club" for the summer.

The colored branch hopes to hold classes similar to the central branch, featuring handicraft work in leather, metals and plastics. Mr. Gatrall outlined the summer program and illustrated his talk with an exhibit of projects.

The game of handball originated in Ireland more than a thousand years ago and is often considered one of the national games of that country. This game is now played by more men in America than in any other country in the world.

Record Crowd Sees Yanks Defeat Red Sox 2-1

Chandler Holds Boston In Check Allows Two Hits

Largest Night Crowd In History Of Baseball Sees Bosox Downed

PIRATES CAPTURE FOURTH IN ROW

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 3.—New baseball history was added today to the records.

A throng of 68,617 paying customers, largest night crowd ever to witness a baseball game, saw the New York Yankees defeat the Boston Red Sox, 2 to 1, at Yankee stadium in a dramatic contest.

The mob brought the New York attendance mark to 1,244,064, not much short of the entire season's mark of 1,435,166 set by the 1929 Chicago Cubs.

Chandler Stingy

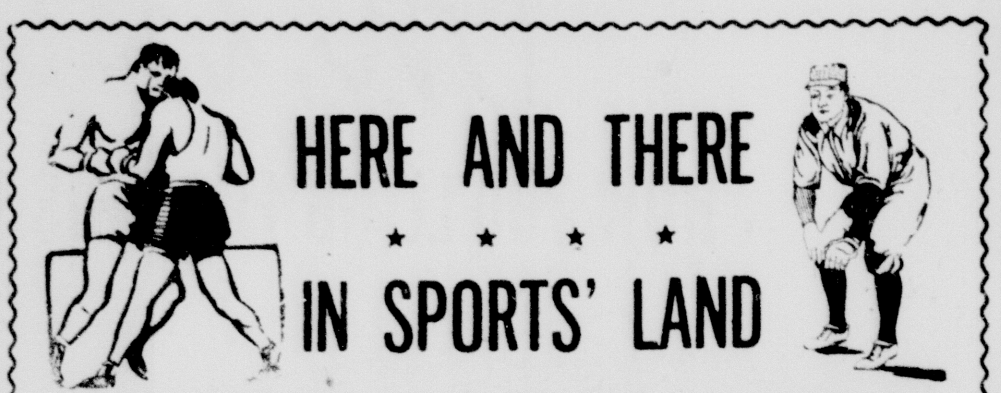

The history-making crowd was rewarded with a game of the world series variety. Spud Chandler, ace of the Yankee mound staff, advanced to the very threshold of the Hall of Fame by holding the slugging league leaders hitless for seven and one-third innings, before 30-by-Doe finally broke the spell with a single. Boston got two hits.

The Red Sox still hold a commanding lead of 7½ games over the Yanks. The Brooklyn Dodgers, who a short time ago were in extremely close quarters, increased their advantage in the National League race to exactly the same margin by beating the Phillies 3-2, while the St. Louis Cardinals were losing again to Cincinnati.

The Reds put on a big seven-run rally in the third inning to down the slugging Cardinals, 7 to 5.

Pittsburgh's amazing Pirates, roaring along like the Braves of 1914 after a brief stay in the cellar, racked up their fourth straight win and their third consecutive shutout as Ken Heintzelman blanked the Cubs with four hits, 9 to 0. Rookie outfielder Ralph Kiner of the Bucs, termed the most powerful hitter in the senior circuit by Manager Bill McKechnie of the Carl Myland, local baseball star several decades ago was a recent visitor. . . . Swollen streams July 1 and 2 did not help fishermen. . . . Cross-country running will be restored on Penn State's sports calendar this fall. . . . Jimmy McKechnie, son of the Red Sox baseball club manager, is a vocal star at Penn State. . . . Bobby Welsh, son of City Policeman Clarence Welsh hooked a large Buffalo sucker in French creek but lost it as he was about to lift it into the boat.

Kermit L. Stearns of Cambridge Springs, is the new president of the Pennsylvania Fur Trappers Association, having been elected at Philadelphia. One of the resolutions adopted by the fur trappers was one calling for the granting of separate licenses to trappers in the state. Tommy Leach, local matchmaker, is in receipt of a missive from Johnny Papke, Cleveland boxer's trainer naming boxers available for July 25 show here. . . . No doubt there will be thousands along creeks on July 4. They should remember that, in case of water mishaps, they should call 1000, eight or 568 for assistance.

The keeping of baseball records, as it is done today, did not suddenly come into being. It developed with the game of baseball itself. For years the home run champions, run-batted-in champions and stolen base champions were not recorded. The names of pitching champions (earned-run divisions) were listed for some years and not for others. From 1898 to 1911 they were omitted, then resumed again. As baseball gained in popularity, fans became more and more interested in the statistics associated with the game. The facts and figures have been faithfully kept since 1912.

Hear Protests In County Loop

Withdraw Two Protests, Throw Out Third At League Meeting Tuesday Evening

Officers of the Lawrence County Baseball league aired three enticed protests last night at their meeting in the Sporting Goods store on North Mercer street.

At the conclusion of the session, two of the complaints were formally withdrawn and the third voted out by the other managers, acting as commissioners.

First protest to be heard was the one springing from the Edinburg-Wampum game of June 22, the game being won by Edinburg, 5-3. Wampum protested the decision of the ball and strike umpire when he called a batsman out when he accidentally hit the ball twice on a bunt. Other loop players, voting on the point, upheld the judgment of the umpire and ruled the protest out. The specific rule was read to clarify the point.

FAIR OR FOUL

BY LAWTON CARVER

Sports Editor, International News Service

NEW YORK, July 3.—Mike Hogan wears a white straw hat, shirts with pink stripes, ties ablaze with red and green flowers, and a grey suit with a white stripe in it. He comes from the blue grass country of Kentucky. He says Black Warbler will win the derby next year.

Black Warbler is a fast and game colt owned by the color-plashed Kentucky. They are stabled at Monmouth Park, along with nine other Hogan runners, his trainer, ex-jockey M. L. Fallon, and the Hogan family.

Some Fancy Offers

They are racing in the East for the first time, and asking these bright sunny afternoons how long this has been going on? Meaning, this soft touch in the East, Hogan has enjoyed more success at Monmouth Park than at any other track he has raced on—and, of course, Black Warbler has helped to make things happy for him.

Hogan revealed that he has received some fancy offers for the colt, but added:

"I could have got $10,000 for him in Kentucky when I didn't have but 85 cents and no luck. When they try to buy him now I just sass 'em back."

Wins Two Straight

This baby with a coat the color of a moonless midnight has won two straight at Monmouth Park, and in his last start Friday all but ran off and hid from his field.

Hogan said:

"He would have left them up the track, too, if the race had been longer than 5 1/2 furlongs. He was flying, and drawing away from the finish."

Hogan pulled a wadded piece of paper out of his pocket, and studied it.

He added:

"Here are the fractional times and this adds up to 1:05-3 5/8—but anyway this colt who is by Balladier out of a sweep on mare named Onrita looks like the business."

Looks Like Winner

Naturally, he thinks Black Warbler will win the 1947 derby.

That is a horseman's prerogative, to think his horse is the best in the world after a couple of wins and to know for an absolute fact that he has a lock on that next derby.

It doesn't always workout that way, but as Hogan went on to say any man who can't dream a little doesn't belong in the horse business, getting up at 5 o'clock in the morning, running into all kinds of tough luck and always living for tomorrow.

Nothing for Nothing

You're got to dream with it—or get out of the business or go nuts, Hogan said.

"And furthermore, dreaming is about the only thing that doesn't cost you any money around the race track—that's why I enjoy it so much."

"Black Warbler to win the 1947 Kentucky Derby—and I wouldn't be surprised if he beat Whirlaway's record of 2:01-2 5/8. You might as well make the dream good while you're at it."

Tom Brown Faces Yvan Petra Today

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 3.—(INS)—Young Tom Brown today faces the stiffest test of his very brief tennis career.

The tall Californian must meet Yvan Petra, the 6 ft. 7 in. Frenchman, in the semi-final round of the All-England championships, and very few British experts concede Tom more than an outside chance to defeat the man who blasted Australia's sensational Dimmy Pails out of the tournament.

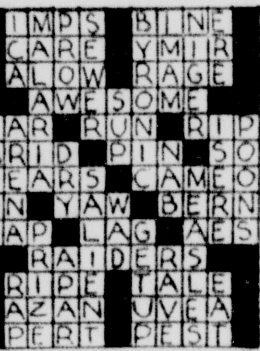

STODDART NAMED STATE COLLEGE Pa., July 3.—(INS)—The appointment of Charles W. Stoddart, Jr. of State College as director of the extension school of physical education and athletics was announced today by Pennsylvania State College.

Stoddart, who has been community recreation director, will assume his post September 1, according to Dean P. Sloan.

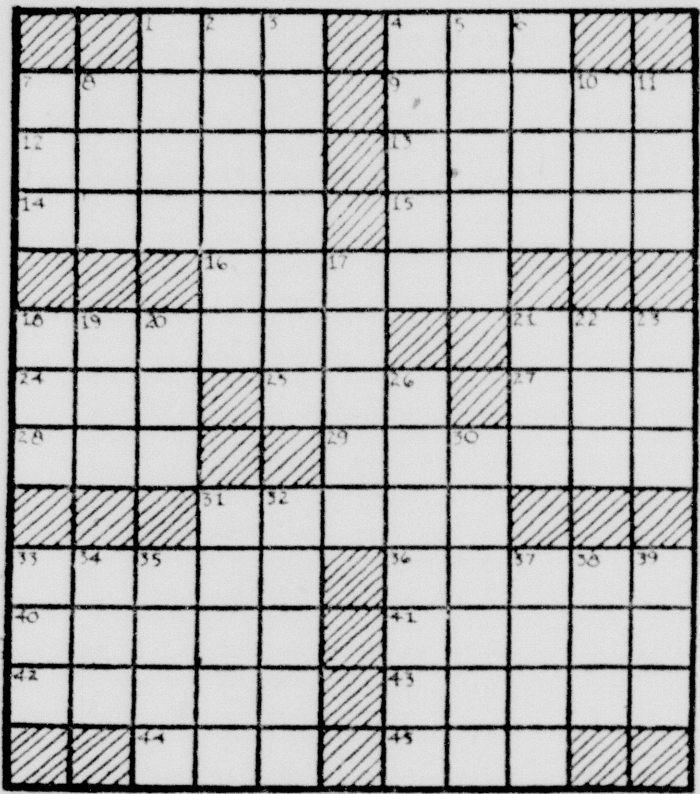

He said Stoddart would coordinate community service programs to physical education, health and recreation.

Immense Salaries Are Assailed As War Profiteering

Senator Mead Of War Investigating Committees Assails Salaries Paid In Illinois Enterprise

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—Immense salaries paid to officials of a group of Illinois war contract companies were termed "war profiteering at its worst" Tuesday by Sen. Mead (D-N.Y., chairman of the war investigating committee).

The committee checking on contracts awarded a group of 16 affiliated companies, found that A. B. Gellman, official and director of many of the alleged "paper companies," made $626,143 from 1940 to June, 1945.

Pointing out that during the same period many men at the front were "giving their lives," Mead said:

"I don't think that anyone has a right to get rich in time of national emergency. This is war profiteering at its worst, and I can see great injury to the people called upon to make sacrifices."

Companies Involved

The three principal companies involved were Erie Basin Metal Products, Inc., Elgin, Ill.; Batavia Products, Inc., Batavia, Ill.; and Erie State Machinery Co. Inc., Chicago. Sharing in the war contracts, much of which covered mortar shells, were a number of affiliated concerns.

Gellman's pay for the war period was revealed as Edward Schaefer, of the general accounting office, attempted to unravel the complicated corporate structure of Batavia Metal Products, which held government contracts for manufacture of chemical warfare equipment.

Schaefer testified that through a series of purchases and stock transactions the officers of Batavia Metal Products paid themselves tremendous profits by purchasing companies they already controlled.

Starting with the purchase in 1941 of the United States Wind Engine and Pump Co. for 220,000, Gellman, his brother, B. C. Gellman, and others, built it up through "writing up fixed assets," Schaefer testified until they sold it to Batavia for $400,000 in 1943.

Actual cash for the original purchase of United States Wind Engine and Pump Co. was testified, came from government advances on war contracts.

Schaefer also testified that while in 1945 Batavia Metal Products showed net worth of more than half a million dollars, it had lost $97,000 in the past three years. The net worth figure, Schaefer said, was obtained by writing up the value of fixed assets.

Lions See Film On Insect Killer

Interesting Program Is Presented At Luncheon Meeting In Castle— Tuesday

New Castle Lions club members were entertained at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castle Tuesday. A film on how DDT, the new insect killer, works in a film entitled "They walk with death" which was shown through the courtesy of the Sherwin-Williams Paint Co.

The film explained how the poison is absorbed through the feet of the insects, and is taken into the system, making it way to the nervous center and causing death.

Various kinds of insect pests and their habits were shown in the picture.

Bikini Island Is Undamaged

BIKINI, July 3.—(INS)—Bikini Island, three miles from the spot where the atomic bomb was exploded, apparently was undamaged by the blast.

Reporters toured the island Tuesday behind radioactivity detectors and saw no sign of the slightest damage by heat or force of the explosion. The beaches showed no evidence of wave damage.

Trees, military installations, buildings and tents were untouched.

Even a cardboard sign at the entrance to the officers' club reading "closed" was undisturbed.

Work was already under way today on re-establishment of the Bikini radio station and the recreational area will be reopened. Swimming will remain under a ban, however, until scientists have determined the water is free of radioactivity.
